Barcelona, (Spain) January 2015... // ExpoSolidos is a trade fair meant exclusively for professionals, which offers the latest information about the handling and processing of solid, semi-solid and the separation of solids and liquids for a wide range of industries: food, metallurgy, agriculture, chemical, pharmaceutical, shipping, mining, construction, cosmetics, plastics, paints, environment and waste management, among others.

This sector is one of the leading technologies, as the market increasingly demands more efficient, safer and better technological answers regarding the processing of dry powders and bulk materials. With over 100 confirmed exhibitors, representing 32 countries, the event affirms its leadership in an industry whose total turnover is estimated -in Spain- as 1073 million Euros annually.

"Our goal is to help to meet the objectives of each exhibitor and also seek complicities and alliances. We focus more on meeting quality objectives, because it is more interesting to receive 4500 visitors looking how to implement technological processes in solids 20,000 visitors come not only to look at solutions," says the President of Exposólidos, Manel Ros, of Metallurgical Ros, SAU.

The organizer, PROFEI. S.L., expects around 4,500 trade visitors from 17 and 19 February, thanks to the partnerships established with dozens of industry players from 22 countries.

During ExpoSolidos –that will open from 09am until 6pm- various technical conferences and product presentations and workshops will also be held to the attendants.
